Once Upon An Apron

Many women today do not wear aprons, but remember someone special who did/does. Aprons have strings, pockets, and attitudes. Some are pretty and used just for special occasions. Some are thread-worn – holding special stories and love. Are you spiritually still holding on to apron strings, afraid to let go and let God move in your life? Or is your apron a cover-up, hiding fears and questions? Come find the answers to these and many more facts about your spiritual life and how it relates to aprons.

Our guest speaker is Carol Caplinger. Since the age of three, Carol's life has been one continuous adventure, centered in the Restoration. The five biggest influences in Carol's life have been accompanying her dad for cottage meetings and administrations; attending camps, reunions, prayer services and Graceland. Carol has led a full life in such experiences as a guide at Kirtland Temple, teaching on the Navajo Reservation, coaching varsity volleyball, basketball and softball. Being an "I'm a Single Lady" provided her the opportunity to travel and "flit" about one adventure to the next. One day while observing a 3rd grade classroom, she realized that teaching and working with kids was her passion. Actually, Carol has a gift for relating to ALL ages and has directed many camps and retreats. Her newest adventure has been in the role of a Seventy, providing ministry within the Midlands Mission Center to bring about the kingdom of Zion. Carol seems to meet the right people at the right time and is best described as being enthusiastic, adventurous, a lover of animals, and in touch with nature. When not involved in an adventure, you can find her at home, sitting by her waterfall with her golden retriever, Caleb, who is a therapy dog for Human Animal Bond.

Carol is excited to come and share with us this weekend. You will be amazed as she shares from her heart the love of God. You'll laugh and cry, but be assured, you'll be blessed by her ministry.
